A routine, random drug dog scan was performed at Bel Air Middle School yesterday, January 25th. The scan, done as part of the school system's commitment to keeping illicit drugs out of the schools, was accomplished using a canine under the direction of the Bel Air Police Department.

The scan involved 389 lockers being sniffed by the dog. The scan – supervised by two Bel Air Police officers, one drug dog, two administrators from the school, and a representative from the school system's Safety and Security Office – produced no alerts.
