A routine, random drug dog scan was performed at C. Milton Wright High School Friday, April 9th. The scan, done as part of the school system's commitment to keeping illicit drugs out of the schools, was accomplished using a canine under the direction of the Harford County Sheriff's Office.

A scan of the student parking lot was conducted. The 20-minute scan – supervised by four Harford County Sheriff's deputies, one drug dog, one administrator from the school and a representative from the school system's Safety and Security Office – involved 26 cars and produced no alerts.
