A routine, random drug dog scan was performed at North Harford High School today, March 1st. The scan, done as part of the school system's commitment to keeping illicit drugs out of the schools, was accomplished using a canine under the direction of the Harford County Sheriff's Office.

The scan involved 392 lockers being sniffed by the dog. The 20-minute scan – supervised by four Harford County Sheriff's Office deputies, one drug dog, two administrators from the school, and the school system's Coordinator of Safety and Security – produced no alerts.
