A routine, random drug dog scan was performed at North Harford High School today, November 19th. The scan, done as part of the school system's commitment to keeping illicit drugs out of the schools, was accomplished using a canine under the direction of the Harford County Sheriff's Office.

The scan involved 322 lockers being sniffed by the dog. The 15-minute scan – supervised by four Harford County Sheriff's Office deputies, one drug dog, two administrators from the school, and the school system's Coordinator of Safety and Security – resulted in no alerts.
