FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Homestead/Wakefield Elementary School and Red Pump Elementary School Named Maryland Blue Ribbon Schools

Harford County Public Schools (HCPS) is proud to announce that Homestead/Wakefield Elementary School and Red Pump Elementary School have been named Maryland Blue Ribbon Schools, one of the highest distinctions awarded to schools in the state.

The Maryland Blue Ribbon School Program recognizes schools based on various factors, including performance on state and national assessments, and success in closing achievement gaps among student groups. Schools earning this distinction serve as models of effective teaching and learning practices and exemplify strong school leadership, dedicated staff, engaged families, and supportive communities.

The recognition of both Homestead/Wakefield Elementary School and Red Pump Elementary School reflects the collective efforts of students, educators, staff, families, and community partners who work together each day to create outstanding learning environments and ensure academic success for all students.

"This prestigious recognition is a testament to the unwavering commitment of our students, staff, families, and school leaders," said Dr. Dyann R. Mack, Superintendent of Harford County Public Schools. "Being named a Maryland Blue Ribbon School signifies more than academic success. It reflects a culture of excellence, innovation, and collaboration that empowers students to thrive. We are incredibly proud of the Homestead/Wakefield and Red Pump school communities for earning this well-deserved honor and for serving as shining examples of what Harford County Public Schools staff and students see in our schools every day."

Harford County Public Schools congratulates the students, staff, families, and leadership teams at Homestead/Wakefield Elementary School and Red Pump Elementary School on this significant achievement and thanks them for their continued dedication to educational excellence.
