The Board of Education of Harford County seeks to review information, provide for systematic community input, study the budgetary and educational impact of programs and mandates on students and the school system, and explore options on the issues and action-requests which come before it. To achieve these ends, the Board may establish and appoint committees, as it deems appropriate, including citizen advisory committees.

This policy sets forth the guidelines to be followed in the creation, membership selection, and operation of Board of Education established citizen advisory committees.

1. Description

Ad hoc and standing committees of community members established by the Board for a period of from one to three years or longer for achieving a designated purpose and/or for completion of a Board-defined area of study to be determined by the Board.

2. Purpose

Committees shall advise the Board of their findings and recommendations each year, during the period of time for which each has been established (one, two, or three years or longer), or at the completion of the assigned responsibility. Committee recommendations are advisory and nonbinding.

3. Membership
